

September 20, 2005

Contact: Sara Baxter, 404.378.1882, sarabax@sbcc.cbeyond.com

www.healthconnex.com

Health eConnex selected by Corporate Benefit Services of America to Maximize Efficiencies in PPO Connectivity

CHICAGO—Corporate Benefit Services of America, Inc. (CBSA), has selected Health eConnex (HeC), a leading provider of end-to-end processing solutions for the healthcare industry, to handle PPO connectivity and electronic claim distribution.

CBSA, a leading national administrator of self-funded and fully insured employee benefit plans, currently handles claim re-pricing by sending the claims to the PPO or re-pricing the claims internally. HeC will be replacing that process with an automated claim routing function through its vast network of PPO connections. Raw claim data will be delivered to HeC and they will send it electronically to CBSA's PPOs. HeC will aggregate all the re-priced claims from the PPOs and return the data to CBSA through a single interface.

“This should be a more efficient process for CBSA,” says Brendan Friar, executive vice president for HeC. “With over 200,000 claims a month, the method the company was using was labor intensive. CBSA analyzed their process and determined it would be more efficient outsource to HEC”

- MORE -

PAGE 2

Health eConnex is a wholly owned subsidiary of Accelerated Receivables Management (ARM), a 25-year-old eBusiness infrastructure company that specializes in helping healthcare facilities outsource processes that are not part of their core competencies.

Health eConnex is a leading outsourcing service provider of mission-critical electronic data interchange (EDI) and e-commerce enabling technologies. The company's mission is to reduce burdensome administrative costs and to improve the quality of care delivery by offering technology and services that create and support efficient healthcare data exchanges and interactions.

CBSA, located in Minneapolis, is a national health benefits administrator and medical management services provider for employers, insurance carriers, health plans, TPAs, associations and government agencies. CBSA is dedicated to serving clients of all sizes by offering cost-effective benefit administration and nationally accredited medical management services for self-funded and fully insured employee benefit plans.

# #